

Stonegate Email News of 3-16-07

The Cox bundling offer

On Monday, we sent out an email from the Ad Hoc Communications Committee, regarding Cox's bundling offer for Stonegate. Some of you called the number -- (623) 271-7803 -- only to find that Cox's customer service people weren't aware of the offer. They are now, and Cox is now responding according to the agreement. Before you call, please review the email we sent last Monday. This agreement will save money for some customers. Others will find that their existing service can be upgraded with no additional charge. But the agreement is very specific as to the services it covers. Some homeowners will find benefit, others will not.

Trimming soon?

Almost everyone has damaged plants to cut back. If you opt to do it this weekend, please remember that the next City of Scottsdale brush and bulk collection will be the week of April 9. Please, please find a place out of sight to store the trimmings until a few days before the scheduled pick-up.

Planning a new landscape look?

As you deal with your frost-damaged plants, you may decide you want to make some real changes in your front yard. The Architectural Committee needs to look at your planned landscape modifications, in advance. The procedures involved are the same as for building modifications. The forms are available in the Community Center or on our website, <http://stonegate-scottsdale.com/SG/Carousel/Archives/> The Architectural Committee meets on the first and third Wednesdays of each month. Applications must be received no later than 2PM on the preceding Saturday. The next meeting will be on March 21, and completed paperwork is due by 2PM tomorrow. If that's too soon, the first April meeting will be on April 4 and filings are due by 2PM Saturday, March 31.

Talking about movies . . .

The Stonegate Cinema Discussion Group meets Mondays at 4PM at the Community Center. No charge, no leader, no formalities. This Monday's discussion will focus on Premonition and The Lives of Others. Just show up and share your thoughts with your fellow Stonegate movie lovers.

Have you voted?

The Nomination and Election Committee tells us that the response so far has been excellent. But with eight candidates, your vote could make a real difference. The easiest way to get your ballot back to the committee is to use the drop box mounted on the main gate, in the outbound lane. And remember to mark your calendar for the Stonegate Annual Meeting, Thursday, March 29, 7PM at the Stonegate Community Center. It will be televised on Channel 22.

If you're interested in volunteering for a committee . . .

Please contact the committee of your choice in writing. A note in the drop box will suffice, but please make sure it includes your name, subdivision and phone number. We'll see that it reaches the appropriate committee chairperson.
