Bank error.

If you use Autopay, you've noticed that the bank double-debited your account on November 12. Their error, not ours. Stonegate accountant Elaine Kidwell is working with them to un-do the mess. Unfortunately, a lot of work is involved. Stonegate and Mutual of Omaha Bank ask that you please accept our apologies. The money will be back in your account next Wednesday.

Tennis is fun for kids.

These are the best courts in Scottsdale and Stonegate tennis pro Quita Remick would like to help your children put them to good use. Her Friday Night Smackdown next Friday, 11/20, 6-8PM, is for kids and parents, with the emphasis on fun. All ages, all levels -- and all free. Bring a racquet if you have one. If not, she'll have a loaner there for you. At 8PM, enjoy a family potluck, where you can get to know the other parents while watching your kids hang out with their Stonegate friends. Because staffing and preparations are needed, Quita asks that you RSVP: stonegatetennis@me.com or 480-363-0894.

Tennis is not for dogs.

If you've been letting them off-leash on the courts, stop it! Even if you clean-up the poop, they scratch and damage the court surface when they rush around. Those courts were just resurfaced in July, and some already show the results of doggy abuse. If you see your neighbors turning their dogs out there, please remind them not to. If they don't pull their dogs off the courts, mention it to us: (480) 391-9760.

That brings up the delicate subject of anonymous complaints.

You've seen your neighbors doing something they shouldn't, but don't want to mention it to them. So you call or write the Community Association.

If you don't give your name and address or phone number, you won't be happy with the result. A Board decision several years ago made it official policy to ignore anonymous reports and complaints. However, if you request confidentiality, we will honor that request. Actually, if you don't specifically say "Go ahead and use my name," we'll keep you out of it.

The Community Association can only address Stonegate's CC&Rs and Architectural Guidelines. We don't enforce good manners, morality or matters of law. But within the constraints which apply to us, we're here to help.
